

Memphis Negro Heavyweight Starts Well, But Decides That Tham Is Too Strong for Him and Looks for Soft Spot. Martinelli Stops Kimber'y - Mexican Kid Drops Mitchell

BY F B PIGUE.

ATTLING GAHEE, Mee is negro heavyweight, should toss his boxing gloves into the most convenient ash-can and never attempt to put up his a kee again, for he proved on Monday night at the Southern Athletic club in his bout with Sam Langford, veteran Chicago heavy, that he lacks the fighting heart that is 90 per cent of a real lighter's makeup. Cabee had the chance of his life to get a toehold on the ladder of fistic success, but when Old Sam looked in his direction, he curled up on the canvas and permitted himself to be counted out by Referee Billy Haack. Had Gahee fought Langford like he has fought other boys, he would have taken the measure of the veteran Chicago negro beyond the shadow

GAHEE STARTS WELL.

Gahee started well and binded the first punch, a hard right that shook Sain to his shoesoles. Langford aspeared surprised, and then started after Gahee, who set stretched out into a dead run, with Langford atterhim, Sam weighed somewhere between 100 and 300 pounds, being fat any flabby, and out of any fighting condition at all. Had Gahee continued to run for Sam the return. In lease single would have been able to ston him. Gahee took two or three stiff wallops from Langford in the first renul, but he was unburt when the fighters went to their corner at the end of the season.

At the beginning of the second Gaheer started an offensive, and sharmed Langford sourcely on the jaw with a hard right that sent Sam recling backward. The blow hurt Sam, and had Gahee followed up the advantage, the result might have been different. But from this ported on Gahee shollowed up the advantage, the result might have been different. But from this ported on Gahee shollowed to quit.

The fighters entered a clitch, and Sam, start over a sample of how old Sam, could hit. Gahee down the floor. Sam lest him fall and Gahee down to the dint want to win the fight an anyway. Referee Hance counted him cover Gahee after which the Memphia nearo arose. Then add Sam, started after him agailt. count of 10 on his last occasion of caving in, and Langford's naw was raised as the winner.

A SORRY EXHIBITION.

It was as sorry an exhibition as has been staged in the S. A. C. in some time. The house was jammed to the rafters with black preferen who came to see the local flatic star hammer the veteran Langford into submission. But Gabee's feet became cold as the middle of the second round was reached, and he decided that a good laydown was better than a bad stand, so he took.

A capacity house was on hand, with any number of fans turned away. The doors were closed at 8 o'clock and many were disappointed. Fans were time. Fully 5.000 would have seen the show had there been foom.

The next Monday night card was an nenneed. Dumps McKinney, local welterweight, will meet Ray Long, of Kansas City, in an eight-round bout Gene Martinelli and Young Rivers will meet in the semiwindup of eight rounds. There will be two other bouts.

GAHEE'S DEMISE.

Batting Gahee dug his own publistic grave at the S. A. C. Monday night when he quit cold in the second round of an eight-round boat with Sam Langford, of Chicago, and late of Hoston.

Mass. While on the floor in pretended torture he was tolled out by Referee Billy Haack. Previous to this he had taken three counts in the same round—one of which followed a blow he had landed himself enon Langford a boat. landed himself upon Langford's shoullanded himself upon Languiste.

Never in the history of the ring has any fighter displayed the flag of truce in so inglurious a manner. Gahes not only was toppled from his local pedeatal but he was dethroned without resistance and without accepting punishment. He quit before he was punched and because he lacked the heart to face a man of reputation.

"What's in a name?"

Ask Gahee.

Gabee instituted a spirited race in the first round and accidentally nailed his veteran opponent with a right-hand punch flush on the mouth. The flabby Langford webtied on his pins, as he shock from stem to stem. But instead of following up the lead tables lit out in the other airection, and the round saided before Tham could overtake him.

Gabee had his ming made up in this session, however, and lost little time in exercising his rights. He was in a falling disposition and meant to go through with it.

His next contest should be staged with Egg Head Ratty—who was killed four years ago.

In strict contrast to this was the showing made by Young Martinelli who stopped Young Kimberly in 55 seconds, and the Mexican Kid, who dropped Willie Mitchell in 14 seconds.

It was the Mexican's lirst appearance here in a number of years but the terror showes much of the same fire and deadly punch that characterized his brilliant work of old.

After his speedy victory he amounced that he was ready to take on all comers at 118-129 pennels.

Contracts Sent to Nineteen Tribesmen

Epidemic of Holdouts Expected To Be Averted by Liberal Terms Offered 1920 Chicks -- Other Clubs Having Tough Time Signing Players-McCloskey After More Talent.

BY BOB PIGUE.

NETEEN TRIBESMEN will receive contracts from the Memon the roster of the club in regard to salaries, for liberal terms have been offered, and the athletes have been dealt with as liberally as players they would become free agents. And the Memphis club still has hopes of realising something out of Barger and Manda, and maybe Prieste and High, although the latter pair will probably bring nothing of value.

Two players of the 1920 array have already been signed to contracts, being Pat Altris and Charles Bills, the starsemipro battery picked up in Gleveland last week by Manager John f. McCloskey of the Chicks, who signed them upon the recommendation of Glen Liebhardt, former Tribe rifleman.

In the hardest-fought basketball game of the season the Memphis Y. M. C. A. quinter lowered the sails of the Vanderbilt five Monday night at the local Y. The final score was 31 to 25. The Commodores put up a hard fight to overcome the locals and nake it two straight victories, but the superior passing of the Memphians, coupled with their uncanny accuracy in shooting haskets, proved the undoing of the Naghville boys.

The local Y five started off like a whiriwind, and bagged five field goals netting 10 points. The Commodores came back strong, and soon tied the Memphians lead. The game see-sawed back and forth, with each team playing hrilliant ball. The end of the first half found the Commodores leading by the skinny margin of one point, the score being 12 to 11.

Coming back strong at the beginning of the second period, the Memphiane swept Vandy off the feet by some of the most sensational passing ever seen on a local court. The guards were helpless against the expert passing and goal shooting of the Memphians.

The last half found both teams fighting hard all the way with the Memphis outfit gradually piling up sufficient points to win. Norris Blackburn, lanky Memphis center, starred for the locals with eight field goals, but all of the Memphians played stellar tail. Their team work was all that could have been desired. For Vandy Norton played the best ball.

The series between Vandy and Memphis now stands with each team having won one game and lost one, Memphis losing in Nashville and Nashville losing here.
